RENO

Photography by Julie Cook
Writing by Paul Davies

Julie Cook and Paul Davies went to Reno for Christmas 2004.

Reno 'The biggest little city' did not disappoint. Refugee hippies from San Francisco; marvellous bar tenders (the book is dedicated to one of them, a certain Doug Twist) taxi drivers playing BTO steering with their knees; goats in Santa costumes riding in cars; big trucks; fantasy girls; fights; dope; antique markets and seductive, beautiful, dangerous, surviving 'Americana' where you nervously watch your back.
